

FREE! ----- Saturday - February 5 -- PUBLIC INVITED -----FREE!

Location
changed to HISTORIC DOWNTOWN
Demopolis
→

The Alabama Archaeological Society

Annual Winter Meeting

@ ROOSTER HALL - 216 N. Walnut Ave

Downtown Demopolis

FREE! Public INVITED!

8-8:30 – Registration and coffee and donuts (No Registration fee)

8:30 - 11:30 - Artifact Identification

(FREE – you don't have to be a member)

11:30-12:30 Lunch Break (on your own or boxed from local deli)

Bring your arrowheads, stone tools, pottery and other artifacts to be Identified by expert members of the Alabama Archaeological Society
(While we can't appraise or speculate about the monetary value of an artifact, we can certainly talk about the who, what, when, where, and cultural & archaeological importance your artifacts.)

We will have books for sale about archaeology, Alabama archaeology, and artifacts. There will also be information available about the Alabama Archaeological Society (AAS was founded in 1954!), local AAS chapters, our publications (newsletters & journals) –as well as free copies of past newsletters and brochures that It you know 'How to Join AAS!'

1-1:45 - Business Meeting 1-1:45 (Elections and Committee Reports)

1:45-2 - Break: (Check out the silent book auction! Join the AAS!)

2-2:30 – Linda Derry – “Discoveries at the Site of Alabama’s First State House”

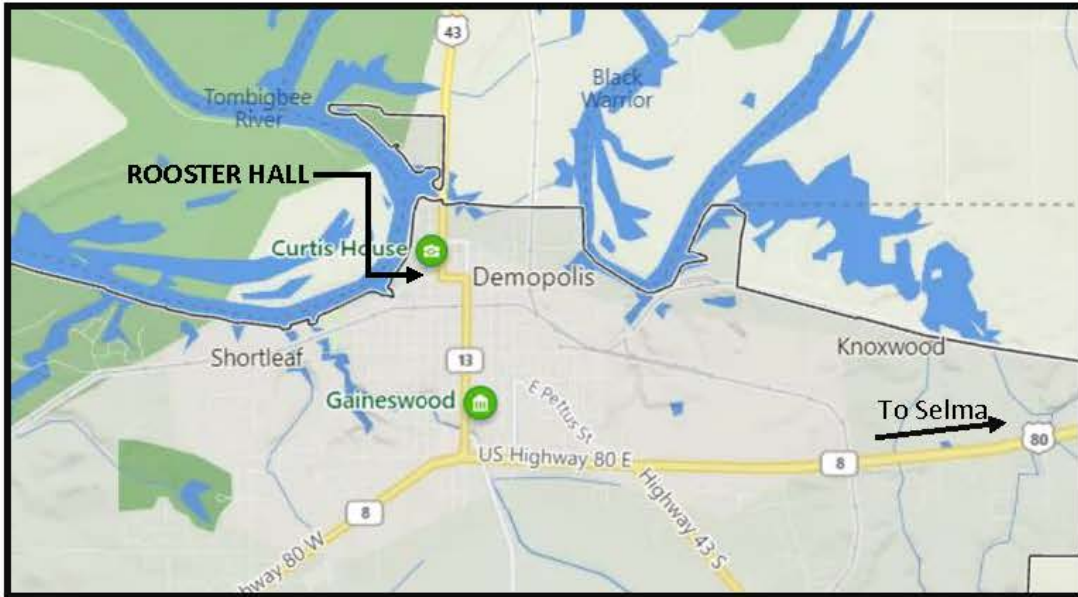

2:35-3:05 – Teresa Paglione – “Volunteering with Archaeologists: No Experience Required”

3:10-3:40 - Ashley Dumas – “An Update on the Search for Mabila”

3:45- 4:15 – Steven Meredith – “The Value of What you Find”

4:15-4:30 – Silent Book Auction ends at 4:30

DON'T FORGET TO RENEW YOUR AAS MEMBERSHIP! Still just $25!

WINTER MEETING February 5

216 N. Walnut Ave., Demopolis

Rooster Hall was a Presbyterian Church (1843), County Courthouse & an Opera House (1876-1902) and is on the National Register (1975)